

Lucidity Privacy Policy

Last updated: 09/21/2025

At Lucidity, your privacy and trust are our highest priorities. This Privacy Policy explains how we collect, use, and protect your information when you visit our website or use our services.

1. Information We Collect

- Personal Information you provide: such as name, email, or phone number when you sign up for updates or contact us.
- Session Information: like your browser type, IP address, and pages visited, collected through cookies or analytics tools.
- Interview & Client Data: for those who engage in guided experiences, we collect and securely store recordings, transcripts, and related materials only with your explicit consent.

2. How We Use Your Information

- To respond to inquiries and provide services you request.
- To improve our website, offerings, and user experience.
- To securely deliver, archive, or share guided interviews as directed by you.
- We never sell or rent your personal information.

3. Data Security

We use industry-standard safeguards to protect your data from unauthorized access, alteration, or disclosure. Sensitive recordings and documents are encrypted and stored securely.

4. Your Rights

You may request access to, correction of, or deletion of your personal data at any time. For guided interviews, you retain full ownership of your recordings unless otherwise specified by written consent.

5. Cookies & Analytics

Our site may use cookies or analytics tools to understand how visitors use our website. You can adjust your browser settings to decline cookies if you prefer.

6. Third-Party Services

We may use trusted third-party providers (e.g., hosting platforms, video storage) to support delivery of our services. These providers are bound to protect your data under strict confidentiality agreements.

7. Contact Us

If you have questions or requests about this Privacy Policy, please contact us at:
tsmei@philosophy2u.com